Christian Hospital Cancer Care Center granted three-year accreditation

The Christian Hospital Cancer Care Center has been granted a three-year accreditation from the American College of Surgeons Commission on Cancer, which conducted an on-site survey last month.

“This accreditation signifies that the highest quality of cancer care is provided at Christian Hospital,” says Timothy Rearden, MD, medical director of the Cancer Care Center. “Only one in four hospitals that treat cancer receive this special approval. It recognizes the quality of our comprehensive cancer program and the commitment of our staff and physicians to ensure that patients have access to the latest resources in diagnosing and treating cancer close to where they live.”
