Trinity Learning Consultant recognized with Peabody/Logos Education Award

Peabody Energy and Logos School has selected Beth Lappe, a Learning Consultant at Trinity Catholic High School in North County, to receive a Peabody/Logos Leaders in Education Award. The award acknowledges outstanding educators and mentors in public, private, and charter schools in the region. This award includes a $1,000 grant as well as being recognized on KEZK 102.5, St. Louis Business Journals, and at the first annual Peabody Logos Leaders in Education awards dinner August 24.

Lappe is honored to receive this award and excited that the parents of a Trinity graduate, who recently graduated from college, nominated her. The parents stated that the difference Lappe made in their son's life affected his outlook on education. Lappe is overwhelmed that Trinity is letting her use the grant for classes towards her Masters Degree in Special Education, specializing in Inclusive Education. Lappe is the sole Learning Consultant at Trinity and enjoys helping all her students succeed. She states that she is just a coach and a tool in each child's success. Lappe has been at Trinity for seven years and is a leader among the staff and loved and respected by her students. Her goal is to do whatever it takes for her students to be successful.

Nominees for the award may be submitted by school staff members, students, parents or members of the community. They must have a minimum of five years of full-time education experience in grades K-12. Nominees are accepted in educational categories such as administration, teachers, facilities and maintenance support, counseling, therapeutic and health support and administrative support staff.
