Lambert offers rest areas for pets and service animals

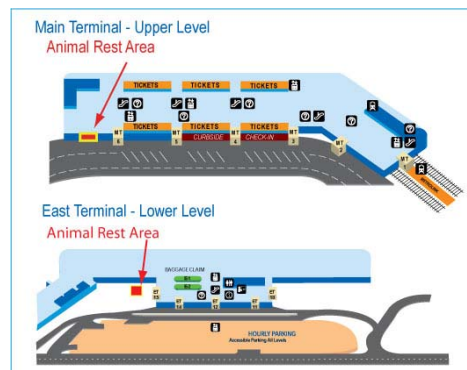

Pet friendly stops now located at both terminals for animals on the “go”

(St. Louis) Pets and service animals now have a place to “go” and exercise at Lambert-St. Louis International Airport. Lambert has opened two outdoor rest areas for traveling animals as part of its Lambert Advantage program, which focuses on new or improved services and amenities throughout the airport.

“These are fun, miniature dog parks that are easily accessible outside Lambert’s terminals,” said Lambert Director Richard Hrabko. “We know this is an important service and should ease the worry of many of our travelers, especially those who must fly with service animals.”

Each relief area offers 400 square feet of gated space with park benches, trash cans, plastic mitts for cleanup and even fire hydrants.

The Main Terminal location features synthetic turf. It is located on the upper level (Ticketing/Departures) just outside exit MT-6. The East Terminal location features natural grass and tree shade. It is located just outside baggage claim on the lower level at exit ET-15.

Lambert is the 30th busiest airport in the U.S. as ranked by Airports Council International-North America. Lambert serves nearly 15 million passengers a year with an average of 300 daily departures to 72 national and international destinations.
